

Le Nautilus

A blue-tinted photograph of a nautilus shell, showing its intricate spiral structure and the internal structure of the chamber. The shell is the central focus, with its characteristic logarithmic spiral and the internal structure of the chamber visible. The background is dark, making the shell stand out.

Collège Penanroz – Pont Aven

